Three Attorneys from Klasko Immigration Law Partners Receive EB-5 Industry Recognition as Top 25 Attorneys

Klasko Immigration Law Partners, LLP is pleased to announce three of its EB-5 attorneys have received recognition in the 2022 Top 25 issue of EB5 Investors Magazine: Ron Klasko, Daniel Lundy, and Anu Nair. Each year, the magazine gives recognition to the EB-5 industry's leading and most influential attorneys and service providers. To be eligible for this recognition, the distinguished attorneys must be specialized in an EB-5 practice group which focuses on EB-5 policy and lobbying matters, complex cases, and immigration compliance, or they are distinguished immigration attorneys. They are then selected by a community-wide nomination and voting process, and then evaluated on their industry experience, track record, and reputation.

Ron Klasko, the firm's managing partner, was recognized on the Top Attorneys in Specialized Fields list. Ron is known as one of the country's leading immigration lawyers representing EB-5 clients. Ron represents thousands of immigrant investors from all around the globe, over 50 approved regional centers and numerous U.S. developers and business owners who have sought his counsel in connection with using the EB-5 program to raise capital for investment projects. He is a member of AILA's EB-5 Committee and served as chair of the committee for five years. He recently was co-counsel for five regional centers and IIUSA in a successful lawsuit challenging USCIS interpretation and implementation of the EB-5 Reform and Integrity Act of 2022 (RIA), which required all previously designated regional centers to apply for reinstatement, a process which would have killed the program for years. The settlement reopened the regional center EB-5 program as of August 2022. He is a member of AILA's Benefits Litigation Committee.

Daniel Lundy has been repeatedly acknowledged as a Top Litigation Attorney in this annual list by EB5 Investors Magazine. Dan has extensive and successful experience in representing hundreds immigrant investors in their EB-5 petitions and applications. He has developed strategies to tackle the complexities that have compounded the EB-5 industry including restructuring troubled projects and filing lawsuits challenging USCIS delays and denials. Most recently, he has been deeply involved in litigating USCIS denials of EB-5 petitions based on material change and redemption agreements. He has also advised clients on the immigration aspects of EB-5 projects that have been involved in civil litigation. Dan has litigated more than 100 immigration cases, including adjustment of status and waiver denials, denials of asylum and withholding of removal, orders of removal, and other immigration issues before the U.S. District Courts, the U.S. Courts of Appeals, and the U.S. Supreme Court. Dan was also recently co-counsel on the lawsuit challenging USCIS' interpretation and implementation of the EB-5 Reform and Integrity Act of 2022, successfully reopening the EB-5 regional center program as of August 2022.
