Carolina Regales is a senior associate with Klasko Immigration Law Partners with 15 years of immigration law experience.

She thrives in a fast-paced environment with deep experience in providing business immigration solutions for corporate clients on behalf of their foreign national employees. She assists corporate clients from a variety of industries including finance, fintech, healthcare, logistics, real estate, higher education, hospitality, and mining.

As an immigrant herself, Carolina was drawn to immigration law knowing she could help others navigate the complex system and stressors that arise as they pursue their education, career, life, and dreams in the United States. With her education, career, and firsthand experience, she is an asset to her clients in making the process as smooth as possible for sponsored employees.

She has successfully obtained a wide range of nonimmigrant business visas like H-1B, H-1B1, L-1, O-1, E-3, and TN, as well as successful experience with immigrant processes including PERM, EB-1A, EB-1B, EB-1C, and NIWs through both adjustments of status (AOS) or consular processing. She stays informed on the constantly changing immigration legislation, regulations, and policies changes to assess and recommend the best course of action for each case. She approaches each case with the motivation of serving others and is honored for the opportunity to assist others in achieving their American Dream.
